Haitian orphans call 'Village' home

By Brian Blackwell Message Staff Writer

CROIX-DES-BOUQUETS, Haiti (LBM) – The Children's Transition Village in Haiti has welcomed its first group of economic orphans, after more than five years of prayer and hard work by Louisiana Baptists and the Haiti Baptist Convention.

According to Darrin Badon, president of Louisiana Reach Haiti (a partnership between the Louisiana Baptist Convention, Haiti Baptist Convention, Louisiana Baptist churches and the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home) seven boys entered the facility in Croix-Des-Bouquets July 1. The buildings are designed to be home for up to 20 boys and 20 girls. But

AWANA a revival for Verda

By Brian Blackwell Message Staff Writer

MONTGOMERY, La. (LBM) -- Verda Baptist Church had struggled to reach the next generation before Braden Martin arrived as pastor in November 2017.

He led them to pray first, and in 2018 the congregation of 80 felt led to start an AWANA club (evangelism and discipleship for children) that has drawn nearly 50 kids every Wednesday evening, since inception, and also sparked a revival within the body of members.

'When I got here, Verda had virtually no youth or kids program outside of Vacation Bible School, which was shocking since we are within steps of the school and have numerous school board employees,

New believers make waves in saltwater

By Brian Blackwell Message Staff Writer

PANAMA CITY, Florida – A small area in the Gulf of Mexico, just off a sandy white beach in Panama City, Florida, served as a "baptistery" for 20 students and adults from Cypress Baptist Church, Benton, at the end of summer camp in late May.

Student Pastor Kevin Flattmann beamed with excitement as 18 young people each declared they were a new creation in Christ through baptism.

Two repentant adults – who were convicted because they had not yet been obedient in being baptized despite enjoying the forgiveness of salvation -- joined the youth in being buried and raised in Christ in the saltwater.

'You put a lot of effort in these camps and you pray so much for God to work in those students' lives during the week it take place," Flattmann told the Baptist Message. "They are dealing with things today you never thought they would be dealing with, and to see them take this important step of baptism is a powerful representation of how the Gospel changes lives. To see these students have the outward joy of Jesus written on their lives as each one went down into to ocean water and up was a moment I'll never forget."

LC to host PreTeen Invasion, Aug. 24

PINEVILLE (LBM) - Louisiana College will welcome more than 800 fourth through sixth graders, Aug. 24, for a day of games, worship and Gospel opportunities at PreTeen Invasion.

The annual evangelism conference for this age group will feature messages by Keith Badgett, children's pastor at the First Baptist Church in Jenks, Oklahoma, and music by The Crowe Brothers from Franklinton.

Before camp began, Flattmann led several months of prayer times with other youth leaders to ask God to move throughout the camp.

God answered with an outpouring of the Holy Spirit and a harvest of souls.

"After that first night when He moved several students to come forward to make a decision for Christ, I looked at my adult leaders and told them we need to pray because God is doing something really special," Flattmann said. "We saw students respond to the Gospel in ways we weren't expecting. We saw kids we had been praying for over several months completely changed and on fire for the Lord."

Tristan Maggio was among the group that was baptized. During one of the services, he arose, intending to come forward and pray about a personal renewal of his faith. Instead, he was convicted of his need for salvation. and made an authentic profession.

"I thought God was calling me to take a next big step, but I was led to repent of my sins and accept Christ as my Savior," Maggio said. "I always thought I was saved, but the Holy Spirit broke my heart that night of camp. Since I left camp I have been reading the Word daily and trying to glorify Jesus's name more and more each day."

Flattmann said he is anticipating the movement of the Holy Spirit to continue among his students as they gear up for the start of the fall semester at their schools.

"I truly believe these students can change this community and their schools," he said. "We want them to do it all in the name of Jesus. I know these students believe they will do it, and I believe that will happen."

for the family is being fought," said Badon, also director of operations at Istrouma Baptist Church in Baton Rouge. "Often it seems like a war that can't be won -- as poverty and high unemployment destroy one generation after another. Many children end up in orphanages, but care can range from good to deplorable.

We will offer our children the best of care. But not to keep them," he said.

including the previous and new Grant Parish superintendent," Martin told the Baptist Message. "What once was Wednesday night prayer meetings consisting of me, my wife, our baby girl and a handful of others has turned into an average of 47 kids and 18-20 members who help out every Wednesday night while a few of us gather in the sanctuary for prayer. "Having this many members each week come in and get to work is just amazing to see," he continued. "We are all so busy, we all work hard during the week, sometimes we are just burned out and still they come. That's the rise or fall of any good program, faithful participation -- the willing surrender for Kingdom work. Any of these adults working here will tell you their heart got attached quickly. It no longer feels like work for most of them."

Martin, at an early age, was exposed to AWANA classes and felt Verda Baptist could benefit from the same biblical training he received as an elementaryaged Christ follower. After taking his adult leaders to meet with AWANA directors at Philadelphia Baptist Church in Deville and Cotile Baptist Church in Boyce, the stage was set for the program at Verda Baptist.

Months of prayer and training led up to the congregation's first AWANA meeting, when 12 adult leaders welcomed 25 children in September

"We can't be, and will not be, a place that divides the family that God designed and created.

"As we receive these children, we will first work to give them a safe home and meet their needs," he continued. 'Then we will quickly begin working toward reuniting them with their families when possible. We understand in most cases we will need to find a way to bridge the economic

The milestone of accepting the first cohort of children was the culmination of the nine-year Louisiana Reach Haiti partnership, Badon said.

After the earthquake response, some members of the Louisiana Baptist team felt led to create a permanent presence in Haiti, and they shared their vision with Louis Odvald, pastor of the New Evangelical Baptist Church in Croix-Des-Bouquets, Badon said.

The completed walledin compound which houses the Children's Transitional Village in the outskirts of his town is only part of the plans they visualized.

A church and school, with a well, has been completed in neighboring Canaan, as well as the "brick and mortar" portion of a medical clinic. Badon said funding still needs to be raised for clinic operations.

Perry Hancock, president and CEO of the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home and Family Ministries, was thankful for the results of "years of much prayer, planning and building.

"The LBCH is honored to be a part of this ministry to house and educate impoverished children while sharing the love of Jesus Christ," he said.

Wayne Sheppard, who retired as missions partnership mobilizer for Louisiana Baptists in 2018 and helped lead this initiative to establish a strategic foothold in Haiti, echoed Hancock's excitement.

"Seeing the pics of these precious boys who have entered the children's village causes my heart to nearly explode," said Sheppard, now pastor of Grace Baptist Church in Casa Grande, Arizona. "In 2010, we could only imagine how our God would use the coming investments for a new future for people in Haiti. These 'young men' are the divine hope for new beginnings for untold numbers of children and families going forward. As Ephesians 3:20 says, to Him who is able belongs all the glory.'

On July 20, 1969, Neil Armstrong, mission commander, and Buzz Aldrin (pictured), lunar module pilot, made history by landing on the moon. As the pair waited inside the module before Armstrong took his "first step," Aldrin honored God by celebrating the Lord's Supper.

Apollo 11: Aldrin celebrated Lord's Supper on the moon

By Will Hall Executive Editor

ALEXANDRIA (LBM) – The world is set to celebrate the 50th anniversary of one of man's greatest achievements: the landing on the moon by an American astronaut crew. But few know that God was exalted in the lunar module before the historic "one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind" took place on July 20, 1969.

Mission commander Neil Armstrong made this grand declaration, broadcast to the world, as he became the first human to walk on the lunar surface.

But minutes earlier, lunar module pilot Buzz Aldrin asked the television audience watching on earth "to pause for a moment and contemplate the events of the past few hours and to give thanks in his or her own way." He turned off communications and pulled out a package containing the elements of the Lord's Supper. Then Aldrin read the words of Christ: "I am the vine, you are the branches. Whosoever abides in me will bring forth much fruit. Apart from me you can do nothing" (John 15:5).

Aldrin later explained in a number of publications that the blackout was the result of NASA's heightened political sensitivity due to a lawsuit by atheist Madelyn Murray O'Hare. She had filed an objection to the televised reading of Genesis 1, months earlier, by the Apollo 8 crew while they were orbiting the moon on Christmas.

Still, Aldrin later wrote in his 2009 book, "Magnificent Desolation," that he felt he had properly honored God by celebrating the Lord's Supper on the moon, "much as Christopher Columbus and other explorers had done when they first landed in their 'new world.""

Beth Moore charges SBC conservatives with 'sin', recants 2009 statement on 'homosexual sin'

By Will Hall

Executive Editor

HOUSTON (LBM) -- LifeWay's best-selling author, Beth Moore, created more controversy in June and July, accusing Southern Baptists in the Conservative Resurgence of "sin" while recanting a 2009 statement she made about "homosexual sin."

Moore stirred controversy when it was discovered that she had revised her decade-old book, "Praying God's Word," to delete a paragraph she said, July 6, "exceeded Scripture and singled out same-sex sin as particularly satanic."

In 2009 she wrote in the book that "He's showing me" some things about "sexual strongholds" and then cited promiscuity, pornography and homosexuality as undermining the "sanctifying work of Christ."

However, she subsequently deleted a passage from the electronic version of her book that called homosexuality "another deadly assault of the evil one in our society." Moore said she made the change because she "heard from some heartbroken mothers about their kids who were having a hard enough time feeling ostracized as it was."

Among the changes she made, she deleted the statement that "God indeed can deliver you" and removed another part that said "complete transformation is possible ... because God's Word says so ... [and] because I have witnessed it with my own eyes." A number of individuals are now pressing Moore to clarify whether she still considers homosexuality to be a sin. However, she has avoided answering the question directly, choosing instead to cite Galatians 5:19-21, which does not specifically mention "homosexuality" among the listed sins.

CULTURAL NEWS

The July controversy was preceded by Moore taking swipes, June 26, at the Conservative Resurgence, a grassroots movement, 1979-1990, that was marked by the election of conservatives like Adrian Rogers as president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

After 12 straight losses to conservatives, no liberal or moderate candidate sought nomination again. Instead, a small splinter group (that supported women serving as pastors and other liberal agendas) broke away to form the Cooperative Baptist Fellowship.

Eventually, the conservative presidents helped to replace liberal and moderate trustees of SBC entities with conservative ones.

Moore, however, accused the Conservative Resurgence of having "sin in the camp."

"That is not my opinion," she continued. "That has proven to be a fact. A return to the Scriptures is & was vital but it was done without holiness and with what played out as slack jawing hypocrisy. We need to repent & do this differently."

Her June 26 tweets

appeared to be a continuation of a theme she began May 11 when she criticized several high-profile SBC pastors who supported then-candidate Trump during the 2016 presidential campaign.

In May she said she was "compelled to my bones by the Holy Spirit ... to draw attention to the sexism and misogyny that is rampant in segments of the SBC, cloaked by piety and bearing the stench of hypocrisy." Moore said that in 2016 the "fog" cleared for her and that she realized these leaders were motivated by "sin ... power ... misogyny ... sexism ... arrogance."

These strident accusations seemed to be "return fire" to criticisms directed at her about women preaching (an issue also during the Conservative Resurgence).

Meanwhile, in January Moore jumped on the bandwagon with other Trump critics to accuse a group of MAGA-hat-wearing students of racist hatred. The teens were in Washington, D.C., to participate in the annual March for Life. A video clip emerged that made it appear that after the event the teens were taunting a group of Native American adults.

For her part, Moore tweeted, "To glee in dehumanizing any person is so utterly antichrist it reeks of the vomit of hell."

Later, a lengthier version of the video showed the American Indian group actually was harassing the students, and the kids were trying to be respectful. Moore subsequently deleted her quick-to-the-draw tweet.

U.S. Hispanics set to be largest minority vote in 2020

By Will Hall Executive Editor

WASHINGTON (LBM) – The Hispanic population in the United States reached a record high of 59.9 million in 2018, according to a July 8 report by the Pew Research Center, a gain of 1.2 million, or 2 percent, in a year.

Meanwhile, estimates

by the U.S. Census show the Black population experienced a nominal gain, growing by 321,955, 0.8 percent, to 40,902,223, and the number of Whites declined for the second year in a row, dropping by 152,386, or 0.1 percent, to 197,546,407.

Hispanic, and 13.4 percent Black.

The Hispanic population first exceeded the Black population in the United States in 2001, making it the largest minority community in the country. But Pew noted in a report earlier this year that in 2020 Hispanics will outnumber Blacks for the first time in terms of eligible voters, with Hispanics composing 13.3 percent of the electorate compared to 12.5 percent for Blacks. Whites still will make up the largest voting bloc at 66.7 percent, with Asians representing 4.7 percent of those eligible to cast ballots.

The changing demographics have implications well beyond politics, however, and offer special insights about the needed direction for evangelistic efforts and church planting.

Scripture Crypto

The Scripture Crypto is a Bible verse in which one letter has been substituted for another, thus encoding the verse. To find out what the verse is, you must determine what each letter is a substitute for. An "a," for example, may stand for a "t" in this week's issue of the ScriptureCrypto. Next week, "a" could stand for a "d." Each week, each letter is different. Solve by trial and error. The answer will be given next week. Note: All numerals, such as those in the scripture reference after the verse, are spelled out.

8 Louisiana Churches Laurel Hill Baptist marks 150 years of ministry

By Carlous & Carline Pelt Special to the Message

LEESVILLE (LBM) -Pastor Wesley Jackson, June 22, welcomed six ministers with close ties to Laurel Hill Baptist Church to celebrate 150 continuous years of ministry by the congregation.

The church was established June 19, 1869, by 44 charter members with the leadership of W.S. Terrell, and has a long history of sending out pastors "to preach the Gospel," according to usgarchives.net, an internet genealogy research

Joining Pastor Jackson during the program were Sherman Busby, Glenn Cooley, Morris Dale Goins, Huey S. Haymon, Millard Monk and John Smith, each with their own special ties to the congregation:

– Haymon, who is 91 years old and pastor of Flactor Baptist Church in Hicks, shared memories from as far back as 1952 when he served as pastor to the Laurel Hill congregation. Haymon baptized Jackson and Monk, a minister and a long-time Laurel Hill member.

- Busby, who served as pastor for eight years at Laurel Hill, called the congregation "the mother of all other churches in the area." During his tenure, two area-wide tent revivals were conducted and the membership of Laurel Hill doubled.

according to church records. He now serves as pastor of Oak Grove Baptist Church in LaCamp.

 Cooley, a former pastor of Laurel Hill, spoke briefly about his experiences with the congregation, making special mention of a mission trip to Russia to train pastors and build church facilities as a way to highlight the faithfulness of Laurel Hill in sharing the Gospel.

- Goins, director of missions for the Vernon Baptist Association, lauded Haymon for his 73 years of preaching the Gospel, the longest service among the seven minsters at the celebration. "Our oldest pastor puts us to shame," he said.

- Smith, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in Leesville, was licensed to the Gospel ministry at Laurel Hill. He said the congregation had stood the test of time from the end of the Civil War until now "because faithful people were obedient to God." He also provided special music, singing "Some call it Heaven, I call it home."

A number of laypeople with enduring faith were recognized, with special mention of Dewey Miller, who recently passed away at the age of 98.

Junior Wellman, a 93-year-old member, said he attended Laurel Hill before he was born, noting that his mother was a member while pregnant with him. Providing a perspective for how long ago that was, he said, "We used to come to church with goats pulling a cart."

Meanwhile, long-time members, Sharon and Ray Charrier, Martha Wellman, and Lindy Gordy were recognized for their faithful service as well.

Several individuals provided special music (Madison and Marlee Hall; Sherry Jackson, wife of Pastor Jackson; Ronald Carruth; and Smith); and, congregational singing was led by Allen Hall.

Sherry Jackson and her husband, Wesley, pastor of Laurel Hill Baptist Church, showcased the church's 150th anniversary cake.

Jeannie and Sherman Busby enjoyed the anniversary festivities at Laurel Hill Baptist, where Sherman once was pastor.

Millard and Miriam Monk enjoyed dessert as part of the 150th anniversary celebration.

Among the former pastors at Laurel Hill Baptist Church's anniversary was Huey Haymon.

Laurel Hill Baptist Church celebrated its 150th anniversary June 22.

2019 MID-YEAR COOPERATIVE PROGRAM GIVING REPORT

The Cooperative Program is part of the reason why we are Southern Baptists and Louisiana Baptists.

The Cooperative Program

BY the time you read this I will have served in my new ministry role for a little over eight weeks. Thus far, one of the most frequently asked questions I've been asked is "how's it going?" People know I've transitioned from the pastorate and relocated my family from a church and people we loved and a place we called home for over a decade. They tell me they've been praying for us during this time of transition, which is much needed and greatly appreciated. Once they've made their initial comments it gets down to this "so, how's it going?"

That's a good question for all of us.

We made resolutions at the beginning of the year to lose weight, spend more time with God, get out of debt and the list goes on. So, "how's it going?"

The information in front of you addresses this question as it relates to our cooperative missions and ministries. While you can't measure everything via dollars and cents, budgets give us an indication of "how's it going?" relating to the plans we've made to equip our churches and engage our state with the Gospel.

From my perspective, we're a little over 1% behind our budget target with what is typically the strongest giving time of the year directly ahead. So I believe it's "going ok." However, I believe we're going to have to do better than just "ok" if we're going to accomplish what needs to be done in our state – what we believe God wants to do in the hearts and lives of those far from Him.

As I said in my Seven Hopes for Louisiana Baptists column, the Cooperative Program is part of the reason why we are Southern Baptists and Louisiana Baptists.

I will be a champion of the Cooperative Program, challenge our entities to be together in our appeals, and oversee the staff to be the best stewards of the Cooperative Program receipts that stay in our state.

So thank you for your faithfulness to our God, to your church and to our cooperative missions and ministries which are empowered by your gifts through the Cooperative Program. Join me in praying God will move in such a way through His people and His churches that when we're asked "how's it going?" we can answer it's going "beyond all that we ask or think ..." (Eph 3:20).
