Sign up with Home Depot to net cash for Disaster Relief

By Brian Blackwell
Message Staff Writer

ALEXANDRIA (LBM) -- A partnership between Southern Baptist Disaster Relief and Home Depot has generated more than $950,000 in funds for disaster relief responses since 2017.

This money represents a financial windfall from donations by Home Depot amounting to 5 percent of all purchases made by Southern Baptists who had registered their credit or debit cards for the program.

This additional funding from Home Depot stores has supported deployments of disaster relief teams to help impacted areas across the United States, according to Louisiana Baptists State Disaster Relief Coordinator Gibbie McMillan.

Funds are given to the North American Mission Board, which disperses money equally to the Southern Baptist state conventions.

Rebates from the partnership funded 92 percent of the costs of a $4,500 disaster relief trip taken by an Eastern Louisiana Baptist Association chainsaw team to an area

Cypress baptizes record 214 in 2019

BENTON (LBM) – Ryan and Morgan Hollis have spent countless days fishing and tubing, but one particular morning spent in the water produced an extra special memory.

Surrounded by friends and family at Cypress Baptist Church in Benton, the father and daughter publicly displayed their faith in Christ, by being baptized together Aug. 25, 2019. They were among a record number of 214 people baptized by Cypress Baptist last year.

PROFESSING, GROWING IN FAITH

“This was definitely an amazing moment for me to be there with her while she has been going through this part of her life and committing it to Jesus,” Ryan Hollis told the Baptist Message. “I feel so blessed to watch her continue to grow her faith. To see her starting her life in Jesus at such a young age is a true blessing that I cannot express in words. I am so thankful for the staff and people who have invited us into their family and helped us get to the point in our faith.”

Ryan Hollis said he and Morgan, 10, had accepted Christ two years earlier while members at First Baptist Church in Warrensburg, Mo., before moving to the Shreveport area in the summer of 2017, but never grasped the importance of baptism until Pastor John Fream shared more about taking this step in one's Christian walk.

When Fream extended the invitation during a message last summer, the Hollises knew it was time to take that next step of

Louisiana Baptists asked to pray for Brazil

By Brian Blackwell

SOROCABA, Brazil (LBM) – David Denton has issued a call to prayer ahead of a Louisiana

Baptist-led annual summer mission trip to Brazil.

Among the most pressing needs are funding for construction of a chapel that the team will build and guidance as Denton, coordinator of the trip, and Gene Jenkins travel to Brazil to finalize logistics in mid-February. Jenkins is construction coordinator obedience.

“The impact that Cypress Baptist Church has not only in the community but with their missions in the United States and around the world shows to me that it’s not just a church that stays within the confines of the building but they are truly living the Word of God and getting the Word to everyone,” he continued. “It’s about people getting the Word of God and coming to Jesus; Cypress goes and finds them instead of waiting for them to come to them.”

SOUL-WINNING CULTURE

It is a rare Sunday that Cypress Baptist does not baptize someone, records show; and, Fream says the baptisms reflect the heartbeat of the congregation, which is to love God and to love others enough to share the Gospel with them.

When Fream arrived as pastor in 2008, Cypress Baptist averaged 402 in Sunday morning worship and 468 in Sunday school, and baptized 14, according to Annual Church Profile statistics.

As the years passed, more members caught onto the vision of how they can make a difference in their families and community.

By the end of 2017, worship attendance had grown to 1,400, Sunday school attendance reached 1,077, and 95 were baptized that year. The growth resulted in the 2017 opening of a new 2,100-seat worship center and state of the art pre-school space.

Many of the 1700 active members are involved in some area of service, including opportunities to disciple others in the Bible study classes on Sundays and small groups that meet throughout the week in the community.

Members also are active in missions on teams that minister in Texas, Uganda, Panama, Guatemala and Ukraine.

“People ask me all the time what’s the key to our increased baptisms and attendance, and I tell them it’s nothing to do with me, but everything to do with our church’s DNA,” Fream said. “First, we are committed to loving God and loving people. Second, the Word of God is central to all we do. And most important is we expect and ask and prepare everything for God to fall and to just be very present.

“Every time we get together the goal is to lift Jesus up and he will draw others to himself,” he continued.

“All three core principals lead us to who we are, which is to win souls and lead others to Christ,” Fream said. “When you see a guy come forward or someone wanting to get baptized from watching our services online, that’s pretty exciting.

“We can’t wait to see what God has planned for our future as we continue to seek new ways to bring Christ to a world that needs Him,” Fream added.

Deggs' 'second chances' message a homerun at LC baseball banquet

By John Marcase
Special to the Message

ALEXANDRIA (LBM) --Matt Deggs said he is proof God has a sense of humor.

"God has a sense of humor," Deggs told the crowd at Louisiana College baseball's annual First Pitch Banquet, "because he took a drunk and put him in Lafayette, Louisiana, the drinking capital of America."

Deggs story of redemption and second chances proved powerful to the 450 in attendance at the Holiday Inn in downtown Alexandria Jan. 20.

"I thought it was a great testimony for our young people to hear, and for our old people to hear," said LC baseball coach Mike Byrnes. "You'd be surprised at how many people in that room have gone through the same thing. I know because they came up and told me afterward. God was moving in that room when Coach Deggs was talking."

"I thought it was a great night."

MORE THAN A GAME

When Byrnes went looking for this year's speaker, he looked no further than the place he turned to last year -- the Louisiana-Lafayette baseball program.

A year ago, longtime Ragin' Cajun coach Tony Robichaux captivated the audience with his message. Tragically, Robichaux died a few weeks after the 2019 season following a massive heart attack. He was 57. Deggs was the logical choice to replace Robichaux due to their relationship.

"Coach started off as a boss, then a mentor and then one of my best friends," Deggs said. "It was my honor and my family's honor to come back and take over for him. Our biggest thing is we are not going to let him down, not going to let the community down and or his family, the program or anybody else. We are going to take that torch he passed and continue to blaze that trail."

"We had a very deep relationship in the fact he saved my life and saved my family."

I owe him everything."

Deggs was a rising star in coaching. He had worked his way up from an assistant coach at Northwestern State in Natchitoches to associate head coach at Texas A&M when he was fired because of his drinking problem just before the 2011 baseball season.

Deggs watch the Aggies that season win the Big 12 regular-season championship, Big 12 tournament championship, NCAA regional, NCAA Super Regional and advance to the College World Series. They accomplished all that without him. Deggs tried to get other coaching jobs, but no one would hire him, even Texarkana Junior College, a program he had led to the JUCO World Series years before.

"I fell this far over a beer bottle," Deggs said. "Nine or 10 years ago, I didn't even want to live. I was a drunk. I was damaged goods."

Deggs said he prayed to God for help and guidance, all while he continued to drink beer after beer after beer. He found other work, often hard manual labor. He continued to apply for coaching jobs and continued to be rejected.

Then Robichaux entered the picture.

"I sat out 430 days," Deggs kept repeating in his speech. "One dude gave me a second chance."

After completing rehab, Deggs arrived in Lafayette. The season had already begun. There was one uniform left with a number. Deggs, who had always worn No. 15 as a player and in his coaching career, was not pleased. Robichaux handed him No. 28.

"I mean, who wears No. 28?" Deggs asked the crowd. Then, it hit him:

-- Deggs spent 28 days in rehab.

-- Deggs' first name is Matthew. There are 28 chapters in the Book of Matthew.

-- Deggs was hired by Texas A&M on June 28.

-- Deggs' wedding anniversary is June 28.

-- Deggs quit drinking on Feb. 28.

Given a chance at redemption by God through a second chance provided by Robichaux, Deggs rebuilt his life, his family and his career.

STUDY: Louisiana College ranked among the best in the state, nation

By Will Hall

Message Executive Editor

CULTURALNEWS

PINEVILLE (LBM) — A Louisiana College bachelor's degree is one of the best investments of tuition paid in the state, according to research conducted by Georgetown University.

Comparing earnings at the 10-year point to the debt held for the degree earned, this collegiate ministry of Louisiana Baptists ranked second in the state among the 22 four-year colleges and universities that offer more than an associate's degree or certificates.

Among the eight private nonprofit schools against which it competes, Louisiana College ranked first on this metric.

Meanwhile, the Town Talk, a public newspaper in Alexandria, citing christianuniversitiesonline.org, reported that Louisiana College "is the fourth most affordable Christian college in the South, North and Midwest."

In comments about the Georgetown University study rankings, Louisiana College President Rick Brewer told the Town Talk he is committed to doing even more to make Louisiana College "affordable and accessible, especially for those who value a liberal arts education built upon a biblical worldview."

"The more affordable and accessible our undergraduate programs are," he continued, "the more likely the opportunities our graduates will have to impact the marketplaces of the world with the message of Jesus Christ."

"The return on investment on that is incalculable and priceless."

and the brother of Wayne Jenkins, former Louisiana Baptist evangelism and church growth director who passed away Nov. 13, 2018, after leading 34 mission trips to the country.

"This preview trip will not only enable us to take care of details like housing and transportation but will also provide opportunity for face to face conversations with our coordinator and local Brazilian pastors who will be participating in the work," Denton told the Baptist Message.

"I am praying that God will lead us to have meaningful conversations about kingdom cooperation," Denton continued. "These Brazilian pastors have a big task as they seek to mobilize their people for this effort. Please pray for all these things as they are all essential for our trip."

Last year, 56 participants led 1,835 Brazilians to the Lord. These new believers were turned over to local pastors for discipleship toward spiritual health and growth.

The team will leave for Brazil July 3 and return July 14 — or July 16, if volunteers elect to stay two more days for an excursion.

Most of the team's work will take place in Sorocaba, which with a population of 645,000 ranks as the eighth largest city in the state of Sao Paulo.

The team will evangelize on the streets and through drama performances, medical/dental clinics and Vacation Bible Schools.

Crews also will construct chapels for local congregations.

The cost of the trip is $2,400 for the basic trip and $2,900 for team members who choose to participate in the excursion. Costs include housing, meals, airfare, daily transportation, airport transfers, insurance, tips and team t-shirts.

Visas no longer are needed.

"Beyond the Walls needs pastors and lay people alike for the work in Sorocaba," Denton said. "Our goal is to come alongside Brazilian churches to help them advance the kingdom in their geographical area. In the process God always teaches us something about Himself and His grace. Whether you've participated in international missions before or are contemplating your first venture consider going with us. It is an unforgettable and life changing experience."

For more information on serving in Brazil, call 337.359.7689, or email denton@hbcni.org. The deadline to sign up is Feb. 10, and a $300 non-refundable deposit is due at that time.

of Connecticut devastated by a tornado in late May 2019, McMillan said. Team members saw four people accept Christ during their week of ministry in Southbury, Connecticut.

"What eternal souls are you engaging when you respond to a need like this," McMillan said. "Only eternity will tell."

McMillan said the partnership was formed after Home Depot took notice of Southern Baptist Disaster Relief efforts. Company leaders then contacted Disaster Relief officials to discuss the possibility of offering support.

Through late 2019, 5,000 churches and agencies have registered their credit and debit cards in the program to allow Disaster Relief to receive the rebates.

"We are not underwriting Home Depot or another organization," McMillan said. "We are merely saying they have seen the good we are doing through Disaster Relief and want to be a part of it."

McMillan is grateful for the Eastern Louisiana Baptist Association team and many others in the state who have faithfully served in disaster relief. Responses in 2019 included tornadoes in Alexandria, Ball, DeRidder, Pineville and Ruston, Hurricane Barry in Oberlin, Franklin and Watson and Hurricane Dorian in the Bahamas.

McMillan said new teams are forming at Summer Grove Baptist Church in Shreveport (chainsaw), East Ridge Baptist Church in Lake Charles (laundry or shower), the First Baptist Church in Covington (chainsaw) and Louisiana State University of Alexandria Baptist Collegiate Ministry (chainsaw).

CHRISTIANITY'S EXPLOSIVE GROWTH IRAN'S BIGGEST FEAR

By Joni B. Hanigan • Special to the Message

*Name changed for security purposes.

TEHRAN, Iran (LBM)—A mix of protestors in Iran's streets the last few weeks, some demonstrating against America and others condemning Iran's leaders, has obscured what could be an even greater newsworthy event in recent history than political unrest or military action – the explosive growth of Christianity in the country during the past several years.

A YOUTH MOVEMENT

The Christian population in Iran is “flourishing” according to *Pastor Sam who has traveled in the country extensively and now works with Iranian immigrants to America.

He did not offer a numerical description of the spiritual movement, but various nongovernmental organizations and ministry groups have pegged the size of Christianity as between 500,000 and 1 million adherents, with one estimate as high as 3 million converts, and another as low as 300,000.

These competing figures compare to the presence of a mere 500 Christians in the country in 1979 when religious hardliners overthrew the 2,500-year-old monarchy form of government in order to establish an Islamic republic in its place.

According to ministry experts, the growth of Christianity among Iranians appears to be a sign of openness, especially among young people, to outside groups and ideas. This is an important dynamic given the United Nations' projection that “[m]ore than half of the population is under the age of 24, one quarter being 15 years of age or younger.”

A SPIRITUAL REVOLUTION

Despite televised reports in recent weeks of violent Iranians yelling “death to America,” Pastor Sam said in the decade he has ministered among Iranians, he's been treated with grace and hospitality.

In fact, he said it appears more and more Iranians are parting from the faith of the country's hard line religious leaders.

At least a dozen mosques he visited during a recent trip were deserted during the Islamic Call to Prayer on Friday – a Holy Day for Muslims. “It was completely empty,” he said of one prominent mosque. “The whole time I was in country, I saw two people worship.”

Pastor Sam said the increase in persecution for women and those who are not devout Muslims have helped fuel the interest in Christianity – combined with the fact that Iranians relate to a Persian heritage, not an Arabic lineage.

The “imported religion,” of Islam, Sam said, has created hardship and pain for the Iranian people since the 1979 revolution.

“This has caused them to become the fastest growing evangelical population in the world,” he said.

“Operation World,” a reference book and prayer guide distributed by InterVarsity Press, confirms Sam's statement, placing the growth of Christianity in the country at nearly 20 percent per year. This

IRAQI CHRISTIANS SUFFER

By Joni B. Hanigan • Special to the Message

*Name changed for security purposes.

BAGHDAD, Iraq (LBM) --*Pastor Amed knew when the sharp cracking sounds of bullets striking cement and metal turned into even louder explosions, tensions simmering in Baghdad for over a month had reached the boiling point.

Black smoke rising from the Green Zone and shouting and cheering in the streets meant either the Iran-backed militias were pushing against the continued American presence in Iraq -- or Iraqi Security Forces were again attacking protestors critical of Iran's influence in Iraq's government.

Later, he learned the explosions were part of Iran's response to the killing of Qasem Soleimani, a major general who commanded the Quds Force of the Islamic Revolutionary Guard Corps division that has targeted U.S. troops and U.S. allies.

Communicating through a social media link, Amed said the situation is very tense and he and his family must remain inside their home at all times. "We don't know what will happen," he said.

"We thank our God for everything," he said. "We believe our God will protect us."

In Iraq, where an estimated 200,000 Christians remain as compared to the 1.3

million who resided there in 2003, there is a lot of fear, according the longtime, Iraqi-born pastor of an Arabic-speaking congregation in the United States.

"Christians pay the price every time a war starts in the Middle East," Chuck said. "We are always considered outsiders and the West does not care for us these days."

Christian refugees, Chuck said, have been waiting in Turkey and other places for 10 or more years. "There are no takers for some," he said.

Others have chosen to stay out of fear of being refugees.

2020 Commission update: Reaching the next generation and people's groups

By Brian Blackwell
Message Staff Writer

ALEXANDRIA (LBM)—Louisiana Baptists are in the final year of implementing the President's 2020 Commission Report, an initiative undertaken during the leadership of Waylon Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Covington, and the LBC president in 2012-2013.

The 2020 recommendations were crafted collaboratively by a commission of 400 Louisiana Baptist leaders, staff members and laypeople, working in 20 subcommittees of 20 members each. Ten "key actions in reaching our state" — known as KAIROS — were developed to engage two audiences — the next generation and every people group.

These measures for improving the spiritual health and growth of the state were adopted by messengers at the 2013 Louisiana Baptist Convention Annual Meeting.

This article is the first in a series to be published by the Baptist Message to report what successes have been achieved toward the ambitious goals as well as what remains to be done.

FIRST AUDIENCE —THE NEXT GENERATION

"The LBC Executive Director will form a 'Next Generation Task Force' whose assignment will be to 1) study the needs of the younger generation, 2) discover and develop strategies for engagement and ministry to this generation of Louisianans, and 3) promote implementation of these strategies among Louisiana Baptists. The Task Force will report regularly through the Executive Director to the Executive Board."

The next generation was one of two groups identified as a target audience in 2020 report, and Louisiana Baptist leaders and church members have championed the effort to reach a group who has seen declines in baptisms of children (a decrease of 42 percent since 1980) and average worship attendance of teenagers (a 42 percent decline since 1980), according to the 2020 Report.

Despite the decline, Louisiana Baptists remain hopeful for the future, Mark Robinson, state Baptist Collegiate Ministry director, told the Baptist Message.

"Even though cultural challenges increase as we are striving to reach the emerging generation of church leaders, Louisiana Baptists are committed to assertively apply the teaching from the Apostle Paul in 2 Timothy 2:2 to train up a generation committed to make disciples," Robinson said. "From pre-school ministry all the way to completion of university training we are diligently working to reach students with the Gospel of Christ and see great results."

Efforts to reach the next generation have included:

-- Training more than 50,000 students to reach their friends who do not know Christ through the annual Pre-Teen Invasion, Youth Evangelism Celebration and Collegiate Evangelism Conference.

-- Ongoing efforts by Louisiana College to increase scholarship funding and expand curriculum offerings, with a goal to build its student body to 1,500 by 2020.

-- Completion of nine new or remodeled or expanded Baptist Student Ministry buildings since 2006 on campuses reaching a combined population of nearly 90,000 students.

-- Continued growth at Tall Timbers, from 995 in total camp attendance in 2009 to 2,428 campers in 2018, punctuated by 1,510 salvation decisions during that 10-year period.

-- Connecting to more than 30,000 collegians through ministry outreach.

SECOND AUDIENCE — EVERY PEOPLE GROUP

"The LBC Executive Director will form a 'People Group Engagement' Task Force whose assignment is 1) to evaluate the ethnic diversity in Louisiana and its implications for Louisiana Baptists, 2) create avenues for input and involvement in LBC life by non-Anglo leaders and congregations, and 3) lead Louisiana Baptists in effective engagement with and ministry among all people groups in the state. The Task Force will report regularly through the Executive Director to the Executive Board."

"People Group" describes the number of ethnic and racial communities within the state.

A task force has met periodically since 2012 to develop a plan on how Louisiana Baptists can reach these multiple minority groups in Louisiana. In 2018, the task force was changed to a permanent standing committee and serves to advise the convention, through the executive director, on how to shape the ongoing work of the Convention toward people group engagement.

James Jenkins, church planting director for Louisiana Baptists, said the charge of the committee is three-fold:

-- Evaluate the ethnic diversity in Louisiana and its implications for Louisiana Baptists.

-- Create avenues for input and involvement in LBC

As the Cajuns' hitting coach, ULL set school records. In 2014, the Cajuns won a school-record 58 games and were ranked No. 1 in the country.

Following the season, Sam Houston State hired Deggs to be the head coach — on June 28.

His wife Kathy's devotional verse the day of the hire was Genesis 28:15, which reads "I am with you and will watch over you wherever you go, and I will bring you back to this land. I will not leave you until I have done what I have."

Sam Houston State is located in Huntsville, Texas, roughly an hour from Texas A&M.

"I love speaking about the power of God's love and redemption," said Deggs. "I'm thankful for my time in a ditch."

Under Deggs, Sam Houston went to two NCAA postseasons, and the 2017 team became the first in Southland Conference history to advance to a Super Regional.

But Deggs said the most important milestone for him is that he is approaching seven years of sobriety.

FUNDRAISER A HIT

Before Deggs spoke, an auction took place to raise money for the Wildcats' baseball program. During bidding for two paintings by Angola prisoners, Deggs jumped in and eventually outlasted the other bidders at $600 for a Tabasco print.

"Do you know why I bid on the paintings?" Deggs asked the crowd a few minutes later. "Who painted them?"

"Angola is filled with broken people. I have a soft spot for guys who are broken because I was broken."

2019 CEC to challenge collegians to 'Thrive'

By Brian Blackwell
Message Staff Writer

ALEXANDRIA (LBM) – The next generation of young professionals will be challenged to be a voice for biblical truth during the upcoming Collegiate Evangelism Conference, set for Feb. 14-15 at Louisiana College's Guinn Auditorium in Pineville.

The theme for the conference is "thrive."

"We are encouraging students to develop in discipleship and understanding and application of God's word in their lives so they may thrive in Him," Louisiana Baptists state Baptist Collegiate Ministry Director Mark Robinson told the Baptist Message.

CEC will feature three speakers: James Doughty, pastor of First Baptist Church in Monroe, Stephen Daigle, associate pastor of Celebration Church in Metairie, and Robinson.

Leading music will be the Jason Lovins Band, a Christian contemporary band from Ashland, Kentucky.

Those attending the conference will have a chance to learn about possible summer jobs and missions opportunities at booths manned by various national camp staffs situated throughout the foyer of Guinn Auditorium. Students also will have a chance to attend breakout sessions that center around the conference theme.

Robinson said a highlight of the conference each year is a chance for students to fellowship with other members of Louisiana BCMs around the state.

"The night fellowship gives an incredible faith boost to students to see their brothers and sisters in Christ around the state," Robinson said.

Registration for CEC begins Feb. 14 at 6:30 pm, with the main session starting at 8 pm. The conference concludes at 5 p.m. Feb. 15.

means that if trends continue there will be a doubling of the number of Christian converts among the 82 million Iranians during the next decade.

A MATTER OF PRAYER

As it is, civilians in Iran live in constant fear of the government as well as the possibility of Israel or the United States taking military action against hardliner leaders -- and being caught in the middle of the conflict, he said.

Recent world events

they suffer with the known," Chuck said.

There are political hurdles and complications, Chuck said, with new immigration caps, and rules which deny immigration to those who have service in the military -- despite strict conscription rules.

Christians who have fled Iraq have lost their culture and identity, he said, and need strong voices to help them get to the U.S. or make it somewhere.

He asked Christians to pressure the government also have made it difficult for Iranians living in the U.S. and in other countries, Sam said. Frequently, Internet connections are disrupted and people have very little news about what is going on regarding their families.

But the pastor remains optimistic about continued spiritual growth in Iran, pointing out that after 9/11 there was explosive expansion of Christianity -- contrary to predictions that the numbers of churches in the country would decline.

Prayer for Iranian leaders and officials tops the list, according to the pastor, who said the Iranian church would not ask for prayers of protection for themselves but perhaps for their families.

"They would ask for prayer that the Lord would use them, would give them continued boldness, opportunity and wisdom."

Scripture Crypto

The Scripture Crypto is a Bible verse in which one letter has been substituted for another, thus encoding the verse. To find out what the verse is, you must determine what each letter is a substitute for. An "a," for example, may stand for a "t" in this week's issue of the ScriptureCrypto. Next week, "a" could stand for a "d." Each week, each letter is different. Solve by trial and error. The answer will be given next week. Note: All numerals, such as those in the scripture reference after the verse, are spelled out.

compatible with Christian teaching" and declares that "ceremonies that celebrate homosexual unions shall not be conducted by our ministers and shall not be conducted in our churches."

Once the conservatives separate from the present denomination,

The United Methodist Church

it will open the door for the existing United Methodist Church to repeal these bans. The proposed separation will be voted on at the UMC General Conference in May.

The United Methodist Church has about 6.8 million members in the United States and 12.7 million members worldwide. Although overseas congregations are considered more conservative than those in the United States, surveys indicate that 55 percent of U.S. congregants are conservative in their beliefs.

The United Methodist Church is the second-largest evangelical body in the United States, behind the Southern Baptist Convention.

Drop in married couples with children reflects change in marriage views, presents challenges to churches

SUITLAND, Md. (LBM)—The U.S. Census Bureau has released data showing that the number of married couples with children under the age of 18 hit a 56-year low of 23,651,000 in 2017, indicating a decline in the traditional family.

The drop is even more serious when viewed in terms of population totals then and now.

In 1961, there were 23,514,000 married couple families with children under age 18, among a total population of 183,691,481 — a ratio of one married couple with kids for every 8 people in the country.

Now the ratio is one married couple with children under 18 for every 14 people, based on 23,651,000 married couples and a total U.S. population of 325,719,178 people.

The decline in married couples with children coincides with a rise in single parent families, with that number climbing from 2,375 million in 1961 to 10,641,000 in 2017, the latest data that has been released.

Meanwhile, the number of children under age 18 as a percentage of the U.S. population has continued to decline from a high of 36 percent in 1960 to an estimated 22.2 percent for 2020.

The implications for U.S. social institutions appear dire with fewer people as a percentage of the population available to serve in the labor force, a lower percentage of the population to draw from for schools, and a smaller percentage of the population to reach with youth church programs.

-- Lead Louisiana Baptists in effective engagement with ministry among all people groups in the state.

"The ends of the earth are now coming to America and Louisiana," Jenkins said. "As the ethnic diversity of Louisiana grows, Louisiana Baptists can carry out the biblical purpose of the church by seeking to fulfill the Great Commission through making disciples of every people group in Louisiana."

"The 2020 Mandate for the People Group Engagement Committee is a restatement of the Great Commission and the Last Commission — Therefore go and make disciples of everyone, everywhere in Louisiana; in the local church ministry fields, in communities and parishes, and to the very borders of Louisiana."

Jenkins said that from 2010-2019 Louisiana Baptists have seen a 35 percent growth in African American congregations, (now numbering 81), a 45 percent increase in Hispanic congregations (34 total) and a 10 percent growth in Asian congregations (12 to date).

YEAR-END COOPERATIVE PROGRAM GIVING REPORT

YOUR GIFTS TELL THE STORY

We've recently concluded the busiest gift-giving season of the year and in case you're wondering, there are only around 328 shopping days until next Christmas!

What have you done with the gifts you received?

You may have braved the long lines and returned a few of those gifts. Some of your gifts may be delegated for re-gifting over the course of the year. Other gifts are in use, and, if you have young children, they may already be out of commission!

This multi-page spread represents the gifts Louisiana Baptist churches have forwarded over the last year through the Cooperative Program for the purpose of impacting Louisiana and the world with the Gospel.

What do we do with your gifts?

First, we give thanks for them. Many parts of our state are struggling economically and thus, many of our churches struggle as well. So we are thankful for the faithfulness and sacrifice reflected in this report.

We also evaluate how your gifts are used. In other words, we work to maximize the impact of your gifts. The need in our state is great so we must examine and fine tune how your gifts are used in order to best address these needs.

So please, accept my thanks for your gifts through the Cooperative Program. As I continue to serve the Lord and you in my new responsibility, I am committed to strengthening and expanding our cooperative efforts. Love for our Lord and for our fellow citizens demands nothing less.

I truly believe our strength now, and in the future, will be determined by the effectiveness of our cooperation. Join me in praying God will bless and enhance our cooperative endeavors.

Gratefully,

Dr. Steve Horn
Executive Director

EVEN WHEN YOU'RE GONE ...

Recently one of our longtime donor friends passed away. Our friend wanted to continue supporting ministries after his life that he gave to during his life. A portion of his assets were used to establish an account that will continue to support Christian education, evangelism, feeding those in need, ministering to children and more. CP enables the Louisiana Baptist Foundation to help you support God's work, now and beyond your lifetime!

MEANINGFUL CONNECTIONS

“Camp is a place we get to experience His presence together. My youngest says her favorite part of camp is connecting with the camp counselors/ cabin leaders. These counselors stay in touch with us even after camp and truly care about our girls.”

Ashley Lanclos, Maplewood First Baptist, Sulphur

“Our children could not understand how Jesus’ love was free to everyone but in other areas of the world it was a crime to pray to God and share Jesus’ love. One of our students said ‘We were blind to this until the Missionaries opened our eyes by sharing their stories and warming our hearts by denying themselves just like Jesus did when He denied Himself for me.’”

Tenettie Griffin, Franklin Avenue Baptist Church

SAFE, SECURE, AND LOVED

Dana's struggle with addictions led to her and her three children being homeless. At HomePlace, a transitional living ministry, Dana found a safe refuge, a fresh start, and salvation in Christ. In Dana's words, "When I walked onto this campus for the first time, it was like I could feel God putting His arms around me. I felt safe, secure, and loved."

Today, Dana and her family are together in their own home. Dana is actively involved in a local Southern Baptist church. Thanks to your Cooperative Program gifts, needs are met and lives are changed every day at your Louisiana Baptist Children's Home.
