5,000 backpacks carry hope for kids, homeless, exploited

By MARILYN STEWART Regional Reporter

NEW ORLEANS - It takes a lot to fill 5,000 backpacks. But collecting supplies, enlisting hundreds of volunteers, and arranging event details all in a month's time, might take a miracle.

Kay Bennett, director of the Baptist Friendship House (BFH), led 165 volunteers, July 13, to fill 2,000 backpacks for school age children, 1,500 for the homeless, and 1,500 for survivors of human trafficking. With the BFH gym packed with people and supplies, the backpacks were filled in about two hours.

"It worked like clockwork," Bennett said. "I could not have asked for it to work better. It's just amazing to see what we can do when we work together."

Some backpacks were distributed to the homeless that afternoon. Backpacks filled with school supplies were handed out the next day, July 14, at BFH's annual Back-to-School Bash.

With 600 filled backpacks typical for the back-to-school event, Bennett said she wondered if she had lost her mind after accepting the North American Mission Board's Send Relief offer of 5,000.

"I should have known God would provide," Bennett chided herself after the successful event. "He's always faithful."

In assembly-line formation, volunteers from 16 Louisiana churches, 10 out-of-state churches, and representatives from 16 concerned citizens organizations and federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies added an item to the backpack before passing it down the line.

Bennett said that while supplies were specific to the need of the three targeted groups, a common link united them – abuse, or the potential for abuse.

"The homeless are vulnerable," Bennett said. "But if a child is living in poverty, that makes them vulnerable, as well. To show up at school without a new backpack and school supplies, people may bully them."

Wave of baptisms floods Mandeville church plant

BY BRIAN BLACKWELL

Message Staff Writer

MANDEVILLE - Former University of Kentucky football star Dicky Lyons believed his life was headed in the right direction, that is until he met church planter Sam Cirrincione at a Mandeville coffee shop in early 2017.

Lyons quickly discovered through this meeting and followup conversations that he needed a Savior.

Four months after meeting with Cirrincione for coffee, Lyons and his wife, Mindy, were convicted of their need for Christ, committed their lives to Him and celebrated a new life in Jesus through baptism at the Field Church in Mandeville.

Lyons and his wife are two of 54 new converts baptized at the Field Church since its first worship service Sept. 11, 2016. Cirrincione said he is thankful to see how God has used the new believers to bring about a wave of growth at the Field Church.

"It's emotional to see the baptisms," Cirrincione said. "We are seeing these families raise their own children built on a solid foundation

At the April 2018 mass crusade in Amritsar, Punjab, India, evangelist Sammy Tippit's poke to large crowds nightly via Skype. Approximately 20,000 were in attendance and more than 10,000 prayed to receive Christ. Many churches in Amritsar participated.

the Conference of Southern Baptist Evangelists, Tippit said he hopes to use his influence to revive the focus on evangelism that once thrived among the denomination's churches and entities.

CAJUN CONNECTIONS

Tippit told the Baptist Message his worldwide ministry started in Baton Rouge.

"I was saved in 1965 at an evangelistic harvest event at Istrouma Baptist Church and I surrendered to preach two nights later," he said. "I was a freshman at LSU at the time. My pastor was J. Garland McKee, and I knew nothing about the Bible at the time. I was just this crazy kid out there sharing Jesus, and he said, 'Son, you need to learn some Bible," and he encouraged me to go to Louisiana College.

At Louisiana College Tippit made some new acquaintances and reunited with some old friends, including Wayne Jenkins, now the recently retired director of evangelism for Louisiana Baptists.

GLOBAL NETWORK

Tippit said his evangelism via Skype developed organically after Pastor Sadhu Singh, known as "Jolly," asked Tippit to help him train a group of members from Singh's church plant, the First Baptist Church of Abohar in Punjab, India.

"I took three weeks, about four nights a week, and I discipled about 40 of his leaders," Tippit said. "He had started this church and a lot of young people had come to Christ who knew nothing about Christianity.

"Well, after the three weeks, Jolly said, 'Sammy, I believe we could do an evangelistic event with this.' So, I said, 'Let's try it.""

So, they tried it and 100 new Christians were added, then a larger event produced a harvest of 400 souls; and, they continued to stretch the envelope in expanding the reach of the technology.

In December 2016 Tippit preached via Skype to a crowd of 10,000, of whom 5,000 gave their hearts to Christ. Since then he has used this technology to preach to audiences of 15,000, 20,000, and, just a month ago to 25,000, with each event producing a harvest of 50 to 60 percent of those present.

The meetings were conducted in partnership with the Northwest India Baptist Association.

One hundred sixty-five volunteers gathered at the Baptist Friendship House gymnasium and filled 5,000 backpacks, July 13. Two thousand backpacks went to school age children, 1,500 for the homeless, and 1,500 for survivors of human trafficking.

Churches and partnership organizations donated supplies according to lists posted and updated on social media. While each backpack meets a need, greater is the impact for the Gospel, Bennett explained.

"Giving someone something says you care," Bennett said. "That opens the door for their lives to be changed; it opens the door to share Jesus with them."

HELPING THOSE TRAFFICKED

Basic clothing items, travel size toiletries, and a blanket are important to someone who needs to move quickly, someone escaping human trafficking.

"When someone's been trafficked, they have the clothes on their back," Bennett explained. "Most of the time, they've been trafficked here from another state. Most of the time, they want to go back home. The backpack is something they can travel with."

A tip from the National Human Trafficking Hotline sent Bennett out with backpacks to find two young women with learning disabilities who had been trafficked by the same abuser.

After helping the first victim return home, Bennett found the second young woman "traumatized, malnourished, and literally shaking." Sexually trafficked, the woman told of being locked in a refrigerator unit and starved.

With the woman's identification taken by her trafficker, travel by train or plane was impossible. Bennett and a helper drove 17 hours through the night to return the young woman to her mother's waiting arms.

The backpack met the young women's immediate needs and fulfilled the Send Relief mission of "sending help and sending hope," Bennett explained.

"It builds trust when you have something to give to someone," Bennett explained. "It also says, 'I care about you.""

Leanne McCallum, task force coordinator of the Greater New Orleans Human Trafficking Task Force, said "anyone can be a victim," but children and adults dealing with homelessness, addiction, disabilities,

"The Baptist Friendship House is so widely respected," McCallum said in explaining that BFH is a valuable partner in the fight against trafficking. Churches are invaluable, as well, McCallum said.

"Congregations provide a safe place where people tell their stories," McCallum said. "[Church members] can spot behavior that may indicate trafficking."

THE HOMELESS

GenSend missionary Amber Kern helped deliver backpacks to homeless residents under an overpass in downtown New Orleans. Kern said one man told her he had been on the street since Hurricane Katrina, 2005, when he lost his barbershop.

"We told him we were there to show him love," Kern said. Though exhausted from the work of filling the backpacks, Kern added, "God still opened doors."

Steve Turner, director of Next Generation Mobilization, noted that the event underscored the training GenSend missionaries receive to "live life on mission."

"I love the partnerships Kay has established," Turner said. "To have our students learn from her is priceless. What she has done here in a cooperative effort is marvelous."

BACK TO SCHOOL

Workers for the Back-to-School Bash brought the volunteer count to 256, Bennett said, including some women who had found new life in Christ while being served by BFH, and returned to help.

One family attended in grief.

the woman brought her sister's children to the block party and confided to Bennett that the food and fun had brought them needed relief. Bennett pledged her help and her prayers.

"I get to stay here in New Orleans," Bennett said. "[The volunteers] have helped me build relationships simply using a backpack. That opens the door to share Jesus with others and for their lives to be changed. Seeing hurting people every day is hard, but when you see people's lives change and when you see God work miracles in people's lives, it's so fulfilling."

The reception will be held Sunday, July 29, 2018, 2-4 p.m. at the Griffin Family Life Center of Emmanuel Baptist Church, 1200 Farmerville Hwy., Ruston, LA 71270.

First West Monroe's Hoffman fights for Louisiana's unborn

BY BRIAN BLACKWELL Message Staff Writer

WEST MONROE -While state Rep. Frank Hoffmann awaited the birth of his new granddaughter in a Texas hospital July 11, he shared some thoughts with the Baptist Message about his personal mission to protect the unborn.

LOUISIANA LEADER

A long-time pro-life supporter, Hoffmann has used his tenure in the Louisiana legislature to push through key pro-life bills, for instance, preventing insurance companies in the state from offering coverage of elective abortions, and, requiring abortion clinics in Louisiana to post information informing women about to abortion.

Most recently, he championed House Bill 891, now Act 498, prohibiting Louisiana

Conference 2018

from transferring any public funds to an abortion provider, or, to any entity tied "physi-cally [shared facility] or financially" to an abortion provider.

The significance of the legislation became clear when Governor John Bel Edwards signed the legislation into law May 23 just hours after a U.S. District judge ruled in favor of Planned Parenthood's lawsuit to force the state Department of Health and Hospitals to issue a license to perform abortions in the same New Orleans facility where Medicaid funded "family planning" services are offered.

Now Planned Parenthood faces an obstacle in the form of the firewall that Hoffman's legislation created that keeps abortions from being linked with any other government-funded services.

Act 498 corrected some weaknesses in a similar bill, H.B. 338, approved in 2016, but held up in federal court because of confusion about whether the language prevented an abortion clinic from receiving basic government services.

The new bill clarifies the intention of the original bill and narrows its target.

"We still keep the heart of the bill that if you are performing abortions in the state you can't get any monies for anything else you do in that building," said Hoffmann, a LIFE group teacher at First Baptist Church in West Monroe. "But it allows things like firemen and police coming in there. We didn't want a good bill to be lost in court for some silly reason, and that's how opponents were trying to kill it."

NATIONAL EFFORT

The significance of Hoffmann's legislation is magnified by the 2017 tie-breaking vote by Vice President Mike Pence in the U.S. Senate to end an Obama-era rule and allow states to withhold federal family planning funds from Planned Parenthood.

Hoffman said he is hopeful future efforts will make abortion illegal in the state and nation.

'The one thing I would like to see accomplished most is Roe v Wade overturned and abortions declared illegal," he said. "We already have a 'trigger law' on the books that bans abortions statewide, except when a mother's life is threatened, if Roe v. Wade is ever overturned. We are very proud of that law and happy it is in place."

BEYOND BATON ROUGE

As Hoffmann nears the end of his time as a state representative, he said this session has been the most challenging, including the vote to renew the .45 percent of an existing penny sales tax until 2025. The bill is expected to fund a five percent increase in state spending for 2019.

"We had three special sessions," he said. "I wasn't proud we had to do that. I hope things can get better and Louisiana can be healthier in the big picture."

Hoffmann said he has no regrets about coming out of retirement to serve Louisianans. A former educator in the Ouachita Parish Public Schools for 39 years, Hoffmann suggested that Christians should not take a backseat to involvement in politics.

"It's obviously important for Christians to be involved," said Hoffmann who accepted Christ as his Savior when he was 11 years old. "In politics, we do so many things that determine what government does. It's important we do the right kind of things as a state, and I believe Christians are equipped to help us do just that.

Prayers credited for team's safety amid Haiti violence

BY BRIAN BLACKWELL Message Staff Writer

CROIX DES BOUQUETS, Haiti – Cole Permenter was helping to lead a training conference for 140 Haitian pastors when the large-scale social unrest exploded in Port-Au-Prince late Friday, July 7.

During the next two days, Permenter and the other members of a Louisiana Baptist team heard sporadic gunfire and saw smoke rise in the distance while sheltered inside their secure missionary compound in Croix des Bouquets, on the outskirts of the capital city. But prayers from many around the world and assurance from their leaders kept them at ease in the less-thanideal circumstances.

"Our excellent leaders,

Tommy Middleton, Darrin Badon and Stan Statham, brought the team together for a briefing and began to tell us about what was going on," said Permenter, pastor of Bluff Creek Baptist Church in Clinton. "It is because of their leadership our team was able to remain calm and still be eager for what was to come.

"We coveted the prayers of all our brothers and sisters stateside," continued Permenter, who boarded a return flight back to the U.S. with his team Tuesday, July 10. "It's an amazing feeling to know that the church was united in their prayers for us.

"We were overwhelmed by the number of messages received telling us people were praying and encouraging us to remember that God is sovereign and all His ways are good," he said. "These allowed our entire group to have peace in the midst of chaos.

"We stayed in the Word and in prayer throughout the day, and in the midst of it all God drew us closer to Him."

STRONG START

IBER OF LOUISIANA CONFERENCE OF SOUTHERN BAPTIST EVANGELIST AND

The team arrived in Haiti, July 6, for a planned six-day mission trip in Croix des Bouquets. They trained pastors at the conference, started work to build a chapel and conducted coordinated a Vacation Bible School for 250 kids during their second day in the country – and their labors bore much fruit, including a harvest of 20 boys at VBS who professed their faith in Christ. In the afternoon the social situation changed.

The government announced plans to increase fuel costs from 38 percent to 51 percent, causing a violent reaction among a beleaguered people, and three deaths resulted.

In response, the U.S. State Department issued an alert advising U.S. citizens to shelter in place and avoid the airport unless a ticketed flight had been confirmed. Airline cancellations stranded mission teams from multiple states, including Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana and South Carolina.

UNDAUNTED

Even with the unrest outside the missionary compound, the 35-member Louisiana team joined by about 90 others from Alabama and North Carolina made the most out of the difficult situation. They organized a training session inside the compound for the Southern Baptist pastors stranded there, and spent time in fellowship.

Statham, director of missions for Baptist Associations of Southeast Louisiana, said they also met with one Haitian pastor about starting a New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary pastoral ministry certificate program. Leaders hope to hold their first classes this fall.

"When we were discussing the plans, he said, 'This is my dream," Statham said of the pastor, who walked three miles to get to the compound.

POWERED BY PRAYER

Badon, facilities director at Istrouma Baptist Church in Baton Rouge and a team leader,

A Louisiana Baptist mission team of 35 people made the most out of difficult circumstance during a trip to Haiti in early July. Violent protests broke out while they were in the country, but they managed to see 20 people accept Christ during a Vacation Bible School. Prayers from many around the world and assurance from their leaders kept them at ease in a less-than-ideal circumstance.

has been to Haiti nearly 30 times since 2010. When the team members sensed the situation turning tense, he said, they turned over their cares to the Lord, and, also took encouragement that others were praying for their safety, too.

"A lot of people let their families and churches know through social media to keep us in their prayers," he said. "We all had a sense of peace and comfort that God was our refuge and He would get us out safely. Never were we in danger."

Middleton, whose trip to Haiti was his eighth since 2012, echoed the thought.

"We were getting texts from people I didn't even think knew we were in Haiti," he said. "There was a flood of texts and e-mails that was such a tremene-mails that was such a tremendous lift for all the team. It let us know in a hurry just how big our Christian family is."

Louisiana College student Destini Kirkland said the trip reminded her of the need for Christ followers to place their total trust in Jesus. In a Facebook post, Kirkland recounted that home is more than her community of Kolin, but rather is where God and His people can be found.

"A week ago today, I started a trip that would rock my world," Kirkland wrote after she returned July 11. "That day is known as Independence Day. Today I celebrate that day more than ever — because I could never be more grateful for my country and the freedom I have.

"I have found new meaning in knowing God is my Protector, my Provider, my Rock, my Security, my Anchor, and my Hope," continued Kirkland, a member of Philadelphia Baptist Church, Horseshoe Drive in Alexandria. "This trip will be in the hearts of myself and my 34 teammates. But it's like I always say, 'If it's not an adventure, then what is it?""

M-FUGE students on mission in Central Louisiana

BY BRIAN BLACKWELL

Message Staff Writer ALEXANDRIA/PINEVILLE – More than 400 middle and high school students stepped out of their comfort zones to share the Gospel during the recent M-FUGE mission camp.

Throughout the week of July 9-14, Good News seeds were planted by the students by going door-to-door and holding Bible clubs in area parks.

The students from churches in Louisiana and six other states enjoyed a time of worship and Bible study at Louisiana College in Pineville each morning and then dispersed into smaller teams as they worked at their assigned sites.

Some students presented the Gospel in the afternoons to community members while others sorted through donated clothing, renovated a church building and packed boxes at the Food Bank of Central Louisiana.

"For the second year, Louisiana College was pleased to partner with Lifeway's M-FUGE serving as a host site for over 400 high school students," LC President Rick Brewer told the Baptist Message. "These students from SBC churches across Arkansas, Mississippi, Texas, Tennessee and Louisiana had a transformational worship and work experience while in Central Louisiana. It's our desire to expand this partnership with LifeWay to offer four weeks of M-FUGE annually in the years ahead."

40 YEARS OF MINISTRY

Since 1979, LifeWay Christian Resource's FUGE camps have seen God work in the lives of more than 1.7 million students and adults across the nation. More than 55,000 students and adults are expected to attend a FUGE camp this summer, according to Life-Way.

What began as Centrifuge — with a full-time staff that plans and leads Bible study, recreation, worship and other camp elements — has grown to include four types of camps in multiple locations across the country and overseas.

FUGE Camps, which are a ministry of LifeWay Christian Resources, take students out of their normal routine and places them into an environment focused on life change through a relationship with Christ. FUGE Camps are for students having completed 6th grade through 12th grade. Youth pastors can choose from one of four programs at FUGE — Centrifuge, M-FUGE, X-FUGE and X-FUGE on Mission.

Students can participate in either recreation or missions with everyone at camp, or churches can stay together and choose their own customizable experience. This summer's theme is "The Mission" based on the study of Paul and how he lived on mission for Christ.

HEARTS FOR MINISTRY

Hannah Stroud, a member of Union Baptist Church in Seminary, Mississippi, sang during a time of worship at Main Street Mission in Pineville before she joined her fellow team members who shared the Gospel with low income individuals eating their lunch. The camp encouraged her to leave her comfort zone and sing before a group for the first time.

"It was kind of nerve racking, but I had my friend right beside me to encourage me," Stroud said. "But I'm glad I ended up doing that and was able to share Christ's love with all the people here since I took that leap of faith."

Trisha Prewitt, an adult leader with First Baptist Church in Westlake, Louisiana, said M-FUGE gave her group of 27 students a chance to get hands-on practice in serving on the mission field.

"They are preparing themselves for God's kingdom work He has for them," Prewitt said. "They are opening up to each other and understanding that no one is perfect. Because of that, they are more understanding of why people are experiencing difficult circumstances."

Sam West, pastor of the Main Street Mission, said the students have encouraged him and the neighborhood through their bold witness in the surrounding neighborhood.

"They have come with a lot of energy and are willing to do what God is asking of them this week," West said. "Hopefully they will take what they learned and apply it where they live."

Students also renovated the worship center and education wing at the Gathering Place West campus in Alexandria.

"I enjoyed sharing this experience with some of my church, but mostly a lot of new friends I made as we together got out of our comfort zones," said Jackyln Walker, a member of Westlake Baptist Church in Chandler, Texas. "We took the messages we were learning about being on mission for Christ and applied it by helping out this church."

The Wayne and Martha Jenkins Center for Evangelism and Missions exists to equip students and provide missional opportunities for the purpose of advancing the Kingdom of God. This purpose statement is fulfilled through two distinct emphases: (1) educational training and (2) mission trip opportunities.

teaching evangelism to seminarians in Pakistan.

"I initiated a call from my office in San Antonio, standing in front of a green screen. My translator in Sweden transmitted a picture we were able to merge online to make it appear we were standing side-by-side," he shared.

Meanwhile, in Pakistan, courtesy of satellite communications, 75 students watched on a large screen augmented with a sound system, and, because the class was conducted in real time, they were able to participate in a question and answer session following the lesson.

Tippit emphasized that in addition to his partnership with ministries in India and Pakistan to conduct mass crusades to reach others for Christ and as well as smaller evangelistic events to help church planting efforts in remote areas, he also has placed a premium on discipleship through 365 videos meant for daily devotional training.

"Every day we have a new video that goes up in 10 languages and we're working on three more languages" Tippit said. "We have 6.5 million views every month."

"Churches could take these, or even the concept if they don't want to use my videos, and in their area minister into the lives of people in their community – and start seeing people come in," he said.

"We have something every day that is fresh and new. For a pastor that's something difficult to do. I spent an entire year creating these things. I'm willing to actually give to any church the whole schmear," Tippit offered, "and they can put at the tail end of every video, 'to hear more of this type of message, come visit...' and put their churches logo and information on it."

The videos include four emphases:

-- 91 days on "How to have a time alone with God in prayer" with interviews of Dave Butts, chairman of the U.S. National Prayer Committee, to start each of the 13 weeks

-- 91 days on "How to share Christ with others" with interviews of Wayne Jenkins talking about: prayer and evangelism; the Word of God and evangelism; how to share your testimony and a Gospel presentation; etc., to lead off each of those 13 weeks -- 91 days on "How to mentor others" with interviews of Corey Webb, executive/community pastor with Crosspoint Fellowship Church in Schertz, Texas

-- 91 days on "Family life" with interviews of his son, Dave, and daughter-inlaw, Kelly, who with their three children were in Liberia conducting vacation Bible schools and other outreach events when the Ebola virus of 2014 -2015 occurred

REVIVING THE SBC

At the recently concluded SBC annual meeting in Dallas, his soul-winning peers elected him as COSBE president, and Tippit said his focus on evangelism will be three-pronged.

"Evangelism should be at the heart of everything we do. It needs to be the starting place for church planting and discipleship," Tippit underscored. "Evangelism must be at the core of it all, otherwise we are just trading sheep.

"Most people will tell you the purpose of discipleship is 'to help others grow.' But if you define what it means to grow, it means to become like Jesus, and Jesus said, 'The Son of man has come to seek and to save that which is lost,' "Tippit explained. "So, if you don't have evangelism as the very center and core of that discipleship, then you've missed discipleship."

Tippit told the Baptist Message he plans to focus on three goals during his COSBE presidency. He hopes to engage Southern Baptists around the country to help identify potential young evangelists in order to surround them with seasoned evangelists "to train and develop them to have a harvest evangelism ministry."

He also wants to investigate why evangelistic pastors are not using harvest evangelists in their churches, pointing out a Tennessee Baptist Convention study that showed the state's top churches for baptisms hold harvest events, "resulting in more than twice as many baptisms as the average church."

"Why not take these guys that God has gifted, and we have some very gifted and talented evangelists within Southern Baptist life, to make evangelism mainstream in the life of the church?" he asked. Tippit added that he would be announcing, soon, dates for a summit that would bring together known soul-winners among pastors, evangelists and other leaders, to develop a strategy for revitalizing evangelism among Southern Baptists.

Finally, he said he hopes to push for greater use of technology for evangelizing the lost.

"We have tools that are just unbelievable. If the Apostle Paul had the tools we had today, there's no telling what more he could have done."

that is centered on Christ. To see them loving and following Jesus is a praise to God."

PERSONAL ENCOUNTER

"I had questions about the church plant the day I met Sam and through that process I started to find a relationship with Jesus," he said. "Before that, I would tell people I thought I was a Christian because Jesus loves me. I didn't know it was a two-way street.

"Before I accepted Christ I was going from church to church, but not long after I met Sam I saw the light," he said. "I was so caught up in seeing who was right instead of focusing on Jesus Christ. Once he brought my attention to Jesus it was like everything else fell by the wayside. It was total transformation."

Lyons' days are no longer consumed with reliving the glory days from Kentucky football games but rather are centered on pouring biblical knowledge into other believers and seekers of the faith.

"Now all I do is try to strengthen that relationship

A DIFFERENT GAME PLAN

Cirrincione and Chad Wiles moved from Center Point Church in Lexington, Kentucky, to start the Field Church in June 2016, and planned to hold the first worship service in August 2017. However, God's plan was far different. Cirrincione and his core team, mostly from Lexington, began forming relationships with people from the community, and quickly saw a group form. So, instead of waiting a year to have their first service, the group of 20 met for corporate worship in a local restaurant that next month, September 2016. "We continued to grow and reach people," he said. "We value very highly reaching people in our own worlds and equipping them to reach people in their own worlds. Our goal was to reach people organically through building friendships in the community and equipping our people to do the same thing.

"We kept doing the same things," he continued. "We were convinced if we do the right things with the right heart we could let the chips fall as they may."

OUTGREW FACILITY

By April 2017, the congregation moved into a nearby facility, drawing a crowd of 115 people for Sunday morning worship service. A year later, average attendance doubled to 220.

The church is preparing to move yet again in August to accommodate anticipated growth. The new facility, with 6,300 square feet of space, will include a worship center, lobby, children's education department and a patio, and it is just a few miles away from its current location. Haiti from page 5

MORE COMMITTED THAN EVER

Statham said no Louisiana team member was threatened or caught in the gunfire.

"This was in no way directed toward any group other than their government," Statham said. "Haitians love Americans. They weren't seeking out any Americans or other group. They were frustrated with their own government."

Middleton said the leaders of the long-term mission effort are committed to going back.

"The plans already are in motion for next year," he said. "Things like this shouldn't deter us from the mission because the Lord has called us to go to places that are difficult. There are people who live in that environment all the time. So it's our honor to stand with them and if possible to go to them, pray with them and support them."

Scripture Crypto

The Scripture Crypto is a Bible verse in which one letter has been substituted for another, thus encoding the verse. To find out what the verse is, you must determine what each letter is a substitute for. An "a," for example, may stand for a "t" in this week's issue of the ScriptureCrypto. Next week, "a" could stand for a "d." Each week, each letter is different. Solve by trial and error. The answer will be given next week. Note: All numerals, such as those in the scripture reference after the verse, are spelled out.

Summer provides an excellent opportunity to get away and spend time with the family. Beach trips, amusement parks and late-night board games are treasured traditions for most families. Monopoly has been a favorite for years as we vie to bankrupt the rest of the family and, for one moment in time, we become financial and real estate barons – even if the money is fake and our lives are represented by the cast iron player pieces. It's all a game and when it's over, the pieces go back in the box and we return to the real world.

Your church is an important part of another adventure. It's a real-world adventure. Let's call it Missionopoly. It's powered by the Cooperative Program, but unlike Monopoly, where a player can land on one of 34 places, your church's CP gifts land in thousands of locations in Louisiana and around the world.

And the great thing about Missionopoly is this: when we do this together, EVERYBODY wins! The church planter in south Louisiana, the victims of a future hurricane, the student whose life is changed at camp, the missionary, the student who surrendered to ministry but doesn't know if he can afford seminary, the viewer impacted by a statewide evangelistic media campaign - they all experience the blessing of cooperation! We'll never completely see everything our giving does until we see Jesus and hear the stories of the lives that were changed; however, we can be certain the population of Heaven increases through the power of Christ and the generosity of churches and believers. I'd like to challenge you to continue the good work of the Great Commission through the Cooperative Program because the Gospel is for EVERYONE.

The information on the following pages reflects your CP giving through the first six months of 2018. Please take a moment and compare your records with ours. If you have any questions, please contact our accounting office.

If your church isn't participating in this great cooperative adventure, let me encourage you to pull up a chair. There's plenty of room around the table and together we'll make moves to advance God's Kingdom in Louisiana and beyond.
